Bio

Brandeis Marshall, PhD, Principal at Brandeis Marshall Consulting LLC and CEO at DataedX, is an unapologetically Black education activist for Black women thriving in data and tech careers. Brandeis realized that the patterns of struggle: the disrespect of women, especially Black women, has to stop so she became an entrepreneur and started her businesses. DataedX, at its core, counteracts automated oppression efforts with accessible instruction for organization's team members and for Black women.

Brandeis Marshall did a phenomenal job of aligning our interests and superpowers to develop the skills we need as #datascientists. #datastorytelling is my 🧑🏾 using data, graphs and reports to share facts and create visualization models to tell the whole story representing a #diversity of perspective.”
